Central Steel Fabricators, Inc. is committed to consistently providing high quality reliable products that meet the European Union's Directive 2011/95/EC and has therefore removed all of the listed banned hazardous substances from its manufacturing process, with no exceptions taken.

The RoHS (Restriction of Hazardous Substances) directive states that, from 1 July 2006, new electrical and electronic equipment put on the market does not contain:

- Hexavalent chromium
- Cadmium
- Mercury
- Lead
- Polybrominated Biphenyl (PBB) and Polybrominated Diphenyl Ether (PBDE) flame retardants

Central Steel Fabricators certifies that all of the metals, zinc plating, and paint coatings are free of any of the restricted hazardous substances.
